PROSPECTUS
OF
THE COLLEGIAN,
AND
KENYON LITERARY MAGAZINE.

CONDUCTED BY THE PHILOMATHESIAN AND NU PI KAPPA SOCIETIES OF KENYON COLLEGE.

It is proposed by the Philomathesian and Nu Pi Kappa Societies of Kenyon College, to publish a monthly periodical with the above title. Not placing too much confidence in our own abilities, we have obtained, as contributors, gentlemen of superior talent and larger attainments. This—added to what we hope to accomplish in the ardor of a youthful literary enthusiasm, with such selections as an extensive field of foreign and domestic periodical literature, and valuable and well-filled libraries may afford—we presume to hope, will render the COLLEGIAN worthy of patronage and perusal.

At a time when the arts and sciences are in a state of rapid improvement; when all classes of society are becoming interested in the diffusion of knowledge, and the influence of genius and talent upon society at large is greater than at any former period; it is believed that a Literary Magazine, combining variety and abundance with cheapness, will be acceptable, especially to those who take an interest in Western Literature, and the progress of young men training up for the future service of their country.

The COLLEGIAN will be edited by a Committee of the Philomathesian and Nu Pi Kappa Societies. Each number will contain fifty pages of choice original and selected literary and scientific reading matter, printed on paper of superior quality, with beautiful type of the small pica and brevier sizes.

The annual subscription is three dollars only; to be paid invariably in advance, or on the delivery of the first number, which it is proposed to publish soon.

The work will be mailed regularly and directed to any Post Office in the United States to which it may be ordered. All letters (post-paid) to be addressed to the "Editors of the Collegian, Gambier, Ohio."
